Access Zoom

The platform is broken down into different rooms. Each room has its own Zoom link. The default room is the Main Stage

To join a particular room, click on the room on the left – hand side of your screen

Once you click the button, Zoom should automatically open and take you to the room. If it does not click the Help button to see the Zoom link and meeting information

Technical Sessions

Details about technical sessions are available in the room the session will be taking place in (For example Room A is shown)

The tabs allow you to see the schedules for the technical sessions

The author profiles, paper title, abstract, paper and a video presentation is available in the room

If Youtube is not supported in your country, you can download the videos by clicking the Video button located on the right – hand side just above the video

Underneath each Video is the notes section that allows you to enter notes, questions and so on for each presentation

The videos will be played by the IEEE Conference Volunteers and a live Q&A session will take place after each video

Exhibitor Booths

The Exhibitor rooms will be open to all attendees for the duration of the conference. Please take the time to visit our conference partners' virtual exhibit booths. The booths will contain various materials provided by each partner, which may include videos, files, one-pagers, brochures, downloadable resources such as PPT's and PDF's, and useful links. Attendees will have the ability to meet booth staff, send direct messages, book meetings, and have 1:1 video calls.

Networking Room

The Networking room will be open to all attendees for the duration of the conference. It will allow all attendees to meet with each other, have discussions and relax. This room will provide an opportunity for people from across the world to get to know each other and make friends.

Tech Check Oct 12

Please attend a final tech check that will take place in the Main Stage on October 12, 10 AM to 11 AM EST to ask any questions you may have before the conference starts.
